SHERIFF PUA ASKS LEGAL HELP

Hawaii Official Is in the City
Seeking a Prosecutor for Kailua.

NOBODY TO PRESENT CASES

Attorney-General May Commission Deputy if Big Island
Will Pay the Bill.

Sheriff Pua of the County of Hawaii is in town and is anxious to learn whether any properly designated prosecuting officer is to be present at the Circuit Court term to be held in Kailua, Hawaii, shortly. The sheriff has a lot of pilikia on his hands, and he has visited the attorney-general's office in an endeavor to find out how far that department can assist him in presenting the county's cases.

County Attorney Williams of Hawaii is very ill, so ill, in fact, that few people are permitted to see him. He is said to be near death's door. After he became ill he appointed Carl Smith as his deputy. Matters ran along smoothly until about the first of the present month, when the supervisors of the Big Island decided they did not want him in office. They said he was taking cases, in his private capacity, which were against the county, and therefore diametrically opposed to his duties as an official. Mr. Smith said he could only be put out by the county attorney, who was too ill to take any notice of official business. The supervisors took the next course and stopped his salary. That left the county without a county attorney.

On top of all this came the bad-smelling mess concerning graft in Kaua and possibly in Kohala, relating to police officers collecting license money and failing to turn it in. That is an old story, but nobody has started to prosecute the police officers of Kaua, Carl Smith. It is said, was preparing to make it hot for the grafters when his salary was cut off.

Supervisor Shipman was in town last week and he saw the attorney-general's department. It is said that both the supervisor and the sheriff were told that the legislature had formed the opinion that the attorney-general's department was "butting-in" in county affairs, whatever that means, and the legislature thereupon followed this up by cutting down the attorney-general's force of deputies and expense account. The attorney-general can not send a representative to Kailua to look after County Attorney Williams' business. It has no deputy, and has no money to employ one.

It is said, however, that Sheriff Pua will return to Hilo with the promise of the attorney-general that if the County of Hawaii will put up the money he will commission any person selected by the supervisors to present the county's cases before Judge Mathewman.

DAUGHTER OF FAMOUS HUMORIST MARRIED

Clara Clemens Weds Celebrated
Russian Musician at Her Father's Home.

NEW YORK, October 6.—Without bridesmaids or attendants of any sort, and supported only by her aged father, who gave her away, Miss Clara L. Clemens, daughter of Mark Twain, the humorist, today became the bride of Ossip Gabrilowitch, the Russian pianist.

The ceremony took place at noon at the bride's home at Redding, Conn. A special car for the use of friends had been attached to one of the morning trains.

About two scores of the most intimate friends of Miss Clemens and Gabrilowitch were present.

The wedding was solemnized in the parlor of the bride's home, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Dr. Joseph Twitwell, of Hartford, Conn., a life long friend of the humorist, he being the original of the character of Harris in Mark Twain's "A Tramp Abroad."

Mr. Gabrilowitch, who has toured this country and Europe is one of the greatest pianists of the day. He is a young Russian. It was while studying music in Vienna that he met Miss Clemens, who was also studying, and of that meeting today's ceremony was the culmination. Miss Clemens herself toured this country, giving musicales last year.

Last spring Mr. Gabrilowitch suffered a long illness. While he lay helpless Miss Clemens attended him at New York and to her loving administration and care he attributes his recovery.

HAWAII SOLONS THWART SMITH

At Least So Charges Deposed
Deputy County Attorney
in an Interview.

EVILDOERS WERE PROTECTED

Lawyer Says Determination to Enforce the Law Cost
Him His Job.

In an interview given to the Hilo Tribune, Carl S. Smith, the deputy county attorney for the County of Hawaii, who has felt the supervisory ax, gives his opinions as to the reasons that led to the cessation of his salary. That the Hawaii supervisors passed the resolution of the finance committee cutting him off the payroll without discussion makes it patent that the act was prearranged and was caused, so Smith says, by a desire to protect the petty embezzlers that he had under his glass for inspection.

In the interview, Smith says:

"The action of the board of supervisors is only the accomplishment of a prearranged plan, which was thought out over six weeks ago," said Mr. Smith. "During a visit in Honolulu recently I was informed that Desha had consulted various friends relative to a plan of getting me out of the county office and dispensing with my services. At that time, and since, the different members of the board have considered the matter of persons to be appointed in my place. Both Beers and Heen have been named as successors, and the plan agreed upon was to place Heen in my position, and leave the position of county attorney to Beers, as soon as the position should become vacant."

"The reason for wishing to have some one else in the county attorney's office is because of the opinions which I felt should be submitted to the board. I have kept pretty close watch on the letting of contracts by the county board, and know that several irregularities, which were being attempted, were stopped because of my interest in the matter. I particularly put a stop to the members of the board entering into contracts with the county, which were more favorable to the contractor than to the county board."

"At the meeting of the board for September the members of the board attempted to evade the law relating to the making of contracts which provides that the county can only contract when there are sufficient funds to pay for the contract. With less than $5000 on hand the board attempted to enter into a contract with John Brown, who is a father-in-law of Supervisor Lyman, for the expenditure of $25,000. The contract was drawn rather skillfully, and is undoubtedly the work of some clever attorney. As soon as I found that an effort was being made to have this contract executed and certified according to law, I called the attention of one of the officers to the imprisonment which would follow in case he certified to the contract. The result was that the instrument was withdrawn, but, as I am reliably informed, it will be put through as soon as another legal adviser for the county can be obtained."

"Every known device has been attempted during my term of office to avoid the law which provides that county work involving the expenditure of more than $500 shall be let by contract only after public bids. I have put a stop to these attempts and threatened to continue to do so in the future. For several months past all of the contracts for the county have been drafted by outside attorneys, and I have seen only such of them as I have been able to get outside of the county office."

"I have at the present time under investigation a large number of cases of embezzlement of both elective and appointive officers of the county, which cases I expect to have examined by the grand jury at its next sitting. These charges involve crimes committed by county officers, who are in favor with the board of supervisors, and from private advisers which I have received I am sure that the attempt of the board to relieve me from my office as public prosecutor is to protect many of these parties. Another week would doubtless have afforded me the opportunity of obtaining the information necessary to secure the convictions of these offenders. During the investigations these embezzlements the fullest information has been afforded by members of the county offices to the offenders to enable them to escape detection."

VOLCANO FIRE IS BURNING FIERCELY

Capt. C. J. Campbell, of the Inter-Island Navigation Steamship Company, returning from the volcano on Saturday. He reports great activity and charming weather. The fire at the crater seems to be growing larger all of the time and the heat at the pit is so intense that visitors now shield their faces when looking at the lava. The trip was a delightful one to him and those who were there with him, and they were very much pleased with the trip. The new road will be completed in a few months and then visitors may take longer and pleasant drives than are possible now. Captain Campbell says the weather is bright at the hotel.

MARK TWAIN'S EXCURSION

His Voyage in the Quaker City
Was Inspiration for the Innocents Abroad.

Forty-two years ago the paddle steamship Quaker City started from New York on a Saturday morning in June on a grand excursion to the Holy Land. According to a prospectus of the time, she was a "very beautiful and substantial side-wheel steamship." On board was Mark Twain, the humorist, and the voyage furnished him the material for his world-famous "Innocents Abroad." Last Saturday another grand excursion was scheduled to leave the same port upon a round-the-world cruise, this time in the S. S. Cleveland, a most modern and palatial liner of 18,000 tons, with a capacity of 750 passengers, and this vessel will reach here next January. The Quaker City had a capacity of 150 passengers. In that early day the passage price was fixed at $1250. The Cleveland cruise around the world is advertised to cost "only $650 and up."

It was a dismal start which the Quaker City had, for she only dropped down the bay during a rain storm and then anchored for two days before venturing outside into the open sea. Mark Twain on returning home said that instead of that cruise being termed a "pleasure excursion," it should have been called the "Grand Holy Land Funeral Procession." He said the pleasure ship was a synagogue. Instead of having a hundred pleasure-seekers, the Cleveland will have six hundred or more.

Modern in Every Way.

But the cruise of the steamship Cleveland around the world is far different from that on which Mark Twain founded his tale of the innocents. This will be the grand tour in one of the largest and most palatial steamships afloat. She is registered at 18,000 tons and therefore draws deep, but it is believed

PRINCE KUNI ARRIVES TODAY

IS NEPHEW OF THE EMPEROR

Distinguished Member of Japan's Royal Family to Stay
Overnight.

Prince Kuni of Japan, blood relative of the Emperor, will arrive on the T. K. K. S. S. Tenyo Maru this morning from San Francisco, and will be greeted at the Hackfeld wharf by an admiring throng of Japanese subjects. The Prince is accompanied by the Princess Kuni and a suite composed of half a dozen Japanese.

Prince Kuni is traveling incognito, but everywhere he is received with proper honors, and while he is in Honolulu no effort will be spared to offer him particular attention. From the steamer he will be conducted to the Young hotel, where a suite has been engaged. He will remain there overnight. Japanese Consul-General Uyeno will meet the distinguished scion of royalty at the Hackfeld wharf and may have an opportunity to entertain him and his party at the consular residence on Nuuanu avenue.

The distinguished visitor recently attended the Hudson-Fulton celebration in New York as the personal representative of the Emperor. He is a young man, not yet thirty, and holds the rank of lieutenant-colonel in the Japanese army. He served as a staff officer under General Kuroki during the Russo-Japanese war. The past two years he has served with the second infantry regiment of the guard in Berlin in order to perfect himself in military knowledge.

DESERTING MARINE LOCATED ON HAWAII

Chief Leal Sends Information to Sheriff Pua, Leading to Man's Arrest.

Information received by Chief of Detectives Joe Leal has resulted in the capture of E. H. Knight, who deserted from the Marine Corps a short while ago. Leal heard that the man had managed to get down to the Big Island and was working on the Hilo railroad. Sheriff Pua was notified and investigated accordingly. Leal's information proved to be correct, and Pua found his man engaged on the railroad about twenty-two miles out of Hilo. The sheriff of the Big Island arrived Saturday on the Mauna Kea, returning his prisoner to Camp Very.

REPORTS WILL BE MADE TODAY

Y. M. C. A. Hustlers Will Make Their Final Returns at the Noon Hour.

$150,000 IS THE SUM WANTED

Plan Now Is to Purchase the Property of the Honolulu
Library Association.

The anticlimax of the Y. M. C. A. building fund campaign will occur at noon today in the headquarters on Bishop street.

Final reports will be received from the committees and divisions of solicitors and the members of the brigade of money getters will be discharged with thanks. This does not mean that no more contributions will be received after 12 o'clock today. It is anticipated that gifts will come dropping along for many weeks and perhaps even for months. There are many in distant lands yet to be heard from and only a few of the forty-nine absentee possibilities returned by the Alameda on Friday.

It is hoped now to get enough money in the fund to make the purchase and use of the reading room corner a part of the plan for the new building. Just how much will be required for this purpose cannot be known for some time, but there is every certainty that the library trustees will price the lot at a reasonable figure. Their necessity for use of the lot will end when Governor Frear closes the negotiations for the new Carnegie library. The Governor has had one or two interviews with the steel master and giver of libraries and it is pretty well understood now that the town is in due time to have one of the buildings and libraries so popular on the mainland. This will be on a new site, leaving the corner available for the Y. M. C. A. Then will be used the money in the fund in excess of what has been apportioned for the new association building.

A number of pretty good sized contributions are expected to materialize for announcement today. There will be a surprise statement from the hustlers and rustlers and there may be

RUNAWAY ALMOST INJURES CHILDREN

LEAL AVERTS AN ACCIDENT

Youthful Escorts at Funeral of Mother Judith Were Near Death's Door.

The children who last Friday walked in the funeral cortege of Mother Superior Judith have never known how close they were to death themselves, while escorting the remains of the beloved superior to her last resting place. A horse hitched to one of Marshall's delivery wagons broke the rope that tied him to a King street post and started up the main thoroughfare at a mad gallop.

Efforts to stop him at the corner of King and Fort streets proved fruitless, and he continued on. The funeral was then defiling from Richards into King, going Waikiki to the Catholic cemetery, and just as the runaway passed Alakea street, the group of little girls entered King street directly in the way of the mad horse.

Chief Joseph Leal was standing on the corner of Alakea and King, and it is due to him that the children were saved from serious and perhaps fatal injury. The horse was without a bridle, and Leal jumped for the rope that was trailing from around his neck and managed to get it. The horse was going at a furious clip and dragged the chief nearly to the funeral procession before he stopped. Leal was slightly bruised, but was lucky to escape as easy as he did.

NEW MASONIC HOME BEING DISCUSSED

Growth of Orders in Honolulu Requires Construction of Modern Temple.

Within the next two or three years the great growth of Masonic orders in Honolulu may compel the erection of a new temple. The present temple at the corner of Alakea and Hotel streets was considered a monument to the Masonic order when it was dedicated, and it has had a memorable career, but today it is small in comparison with the uses to which a much larger temple could be put.

Within the time mentioned the Masons may plan a new building either to be erected on a new site or the present building may be enlarged and remodeled.

The Shriners are also becoming so numerous and so wealthy and ambitious that they may decide to erect a temple of their own. However, both plans are merely in embryo just now.

DR. HARRISS ON WAY TO COLONIES

Will Complete Arrangements for Musical Tour of the British Empire.

QUARTER THOUSAND SINGERS

Ambitious Plan to Give Colonies
Chance to Hear England's Best Musicians.

Dr. Charles Harriss, Canada's most noted impresario, who is a through passenger on the Aorangi, en route to the Colonies, will pass through here again in 1911 with two hundred and fifty chorists who are to sing in the British colonies and appear in all the principal countries of the British Empire on a trip which will girdle the globe.

The undertaking is one of the greatest of the kind, but Doctor Harriss is said to be equal to the occasion. While in Australia he will complete arrangements for the tour. The idea of the tour is musical reciprocity within the empire according to Doctor Harriss' summing up of the proposition. His idea is to effect a mutual exchange between the component parts of the British Empire, in all branches and departments of musical activity, with the four-fold object of mutual exchange of ideas, a mutual extension of acquaintance with the music of the whole empire, and a strengthening of the ties, both racial and commercial, that help to bind the empire together.

Doctor Harriss has made sure of the generous sympathy and support of the leading figures in the musical world of the Old Country. From His Majesty King Edward down he has been afforded ample material proof of the stability and genuine character of that sympathy. Cape Colony has received the project with open arms. The essence of Doctor Harriss' scheme has been the formation of a choir made up of the leading chorists from all parts of Yorkshire, who will tour Canada, Australia and Cape Colony, giving concerts everywhere they go. These chorists will include men and women of every station in life, more particularly those engaged in trade and commerce, for it is from these classes that the greatest choral societies of England are drawn.

For the past twenty-seven years Doctor Harriss has been connected with the musical life of Canada. He put forth the proposition of cycles of festivals of British music throughout Canada, which he accomplished in 1902, bringing out Sir Alexander Mackenzie, who conducted locally-trained choirs from Halifax to Vancouver.

This new enterprise will entail an enormous expense, against which half a million dollars is already in sight. Doctor Harriss had a talk with W. D. Adams on the matter, although it is unlikely that so great an organization can give a concert during the stay of the steamer in Honolulu.

TALK ABOUT BOYCOTT IS WHOLLY ABSURD

Japanese Brand Published Story
as a Pure and Simple Fake.

In the Bulletin of Friday appeared a story to the effect that the Japanese of Hawaii were incensed against the management of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company for a slight given Count Sancho Otani and were preparing to boycott the steamers of the company. The leading Japanese of the city state that this story was manufactured out of the whole cloth, both as regards the insult and boycott.

There was no insult given the distinguished Buddhist, either intentional or unintentional; there was no complaint made against the officers of the Mongolia; there has been no indignation expressed among the Japanese of Honolulu, and there is no intention or occasion for any boycott. The insult, the complaint, the meeting and the boycott are all imaginary.

GAMESTERS PLY THEIR ART ON THE WHARF

Crap games on the Inter-Island wharf have been resumed as a Sunday pastime. Yesterday a good-sized bunch assembled on the wharf near the office, with lookouts stationed out, and put hard-earned money in jeopardy. When an officer appeared, the players made a headlong flight for refuge on the steamers, and when found were engaged in the innocent diversion of eating poi.

CUBA INCENSED AT FERRER'S EXECUTION

Great Parade Is Held in Havana to Protest Against Act of Spain.

BOYCOTT ON SPANISH GOODS

Feeling Runs Higher Than at Any Time Since Close of War for Liberty.

(By Associated Press.)

HAVANA, October 18.—The people of this city are wrought up to fever heat over the execution of Francisco Ferrer. The unrest which has seized the old world as the result of Spain's action in putting to death the distinguished educator has spread to the new. The execution is the topic of conversation everywhere.

Yesterday a great procession was held to voice the protest of the Cuban people against the course which Spain took in punishing the man charged with being implicated in the recent revolutionary movement. Thousands of people marched in the parade.

One of the direct result of the execution has been a Cuban boycott against all Spanish goods. At a great mass meeting, held yesterday, a vote was passed to boycott Spain in protest against the manner in which Ferrer came to his death, and there is every indication that the boycott will be carried out. Not since Cuba achieved her independence has there been so much popular feeling shown against Spain as since the word reached here that Ferrer had been arrested, tried, convicted and executed on a charge of participating in a revolutionary movement.

FERRER'S DEATH IS CAUSING TROUBLE

Socialists Are Holding Public
Demonstrations in All
European Lands.

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, October 18.—All Europe is discussing the recent execution of Francisco Ferrer, convicted of taking part in the recent revolutionary movement in Spain and the socialists are fanning the smoldering embers into a blaze. Demonstrations are being held daily in the principal cities of Europe and considerable disquietude is felt by the authorities.

Each day brings news of fresh demonstrations, engineered by the socialists, and in all parts of Europe the socialist leaders are taking advantage of the execution as an excuse for a socialist propaganda. Socialists are parading the streets of the capital cities and are holding mass meetings. Even the rural districts have not escaped and incendiary speeches are being made everywhere.

Not in years has there been such a spontaneous protest against the action of any government as has characterized the actions of the people of the principal European countries since first the news was received that Ferrer had been put to death.

W. I. BUCHANAN IS SUMMONED BY DEATH

Was First American Minister to the Young Republic of Panama.

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, October 18.—The Honorable William I. Buchanan, formerly American minister to Argentina, and the first American minister to Panama, died very suddenly yesterday.

William Innes Buchanan was a native of Ohio. He was one of the organizers and managers of the first four corn palaces in Sioux City. He was appointed a Democratic member from Iowa of the World's Columbian Exposition Commission and was in charge of the forestry and live stock divisions at the great Chicago world's fair.

From 1894 until 1900 Mr. Buchanan served as envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary of the United States to Argentina and later was the first American minister to the then newly-formed Republic of Panama. He was chosen by the Argentine and Chilean governments as deciding arbitrator on the special commission to fix the boundary in the Puna de Atacama. Later he served as director general of the Buffalo Exposition and in 1902 was United States delegate to the second Panamerican conference in Mexico.
